

HAMNER INSTITUTES FOR HEALTH SCIENCES

Nasal passage with
Optimal Solutions
Software's
Arbitrary Shape
Deformation (ASD)
control points

The ultimate goal of the work between OSS and The Hamner Institutes for Health Sciences is to produce a medically-related software that Ear, Nose and Throat (ENT) surgeons can use to perform virtual surgeries on the noses of their patients before operating on them, thus enabling the surgeons to determine the safest, most effective approach before intrusive surgery.